Bi-Partisan Group of South Carolina Legislators Form New Energy Caucus
Driven by Suspension of the V.C. Summer nuclear project, SC Energy Caucus will fight to protect state’s ratepayers.

(Columbia) – With so many questions surrounding the future of nuclear energy development in South Carolina, state lawmakers have come together to form a new bipartisan energy caucus. This new group of state lawmakers will work hard to ensure South Carolina’s homes and businesses have access to affordable energy options, fight to protect energy jobs, and focus on correcting institutional deficiencies in South Carolina that led to the ultimate demise of the V.C. Summer nuclear project.

WHAT– SC Energy Caucus Press Conference; Bi-Partisan Group of House Members & Senators
WHERE– 2nd Floor Lobby of the South Carolina State House
WHEN– 10:30AM, WEDS, AUGUST 2, 2017
